

Capability Statement

A path for learning. A purpose for impact.

I started MKB after seeing the same challenge in different settings: organizations often have strong expertise and important priorities, but turning complex information into something people can understand and act on takes thoughtful design and communication.

I bring together more than 14 years of public-sector finance and leadership, hands-on post-secondary course development, teaching assistance, facilitation, research and graduate study in instructional design.

How I can support your project

Design & develop - Needs analysis, course maps, blueprints and storyboards - Plain-language policy and process translation - Online modules, learner resources, assessments and rubrics - Quality review, piloting and implementation support	Facilitate & support - Online course, blended and workplace learning facilitation - Teaching-assistant support, marking and feedback using approved rubrics - Learner communication, tracking and course administration - Workshops, change learning and delivery coordination	Research, advise & communicate - Literature searches, source organization and evidence summaries - Research documentation, coordination and data organization - Public-sector readiness, innovation and outreach support - Dashboards, presentations, educational websites and learning hubs
---	--	--

Experience behind the work

Post-secondary course development A fourteen-module Organizational Psychology course project covering structure, storyboards, activities, assessments, rubrics, open educational resources and quality review.	Training and learner support CAF course-writing-board experience, teaching-assistant work and facilitation that connect content, learner needs and practical delivery.	Leadership and credibility Public-sector leadership, governance, finance and decision-support experience that helps MKB work confidently with complex material.
--	--	---

Selected rates and package starting prices (CAD)

Government & public-sector consulting: $200/hour | Longer-term work: written project or retainer pricing | Conference starter: $299 | Workshop & Facilitation: $499 | Full Event Planning: virtual $1,499; in person $3,999

I know what it is like to learn while working full time. That is why I keep the process clear, respect the expertise already in the room and focus on support people can actually use.

Have a consulting, learning, workshop or government-facing project that needs structure and support? Let us have a straightforward conversation about the need, the people involved and how MKB can help.

Abhishek Batra, CD, MBA (CPA Stream), C.Mgr., C.I.M., CHRP
Founder | Instructional Designer, Facilitator & Consultant
mkblearning.ca | mkb.design.facilitation@gmail.com | +1 647-505-2645